State Board Rule:

Reinstatement or Reissuance of Educator Certificate

The State Board of Education may review an educator's character and fitness prior to the reinstatement of a suspended certificate or the reissuance of a revoked or surrendered certificate, with the primary emphasis on whether the educator has met any conditions imposed by the State Board at the time of the suspension, revocation, or surrender. The educator may be required to provide the State Board with documentation that may include, but is not limited to

- 1) counseling & rehabilitation services reports and medical reports;
- 2) employment information during the period of certificate revocation/suspension;
- 3) community service records;
- 4) letters of support from a current or prospective school district employer, if applicable;
- 5) letters of support from community leaders;
- 6) SLED and FBI background checks, if warranted.
